Dear Mr. Kirkpatrick:

STAT

The Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence, Department of the Army, has notified us that preliminary contact has been made by them with your office regarding a guest lecture on the subject, "Nature and Significance of Strategic Intelligence."

This letter is to confirm the telephone conversation of 28 November 1961 between Mrs. Hartman of this school and yourself.

As indicated in referenced telephone call, the date of 13 February 1962 from 1 PM to 2:50 PM has been reserved for the presentation.

Personnel to attend the presentation in the School auditorium include eighty-nine officer students of the grade Lieutenant Colonel to First Lieutenant who are specializing in the Army Intelligence field, plus interested members of the Staff and Faculty. All attending students are cleared for TOP SECRET; other personnel attending will be cleared in accordance with the classification of the lecture as indicated by you.

For your guidance, the scope of the requested presentation as outlined in the school program of instruction is as follows: "Definition and significance of strategic intelligence; historical development; the nature of the subject in terms of the past successes and failures; significance to national policy and security; intelligence as a weapon."

Your two hour presentation will be the beginning of a five hour block entitled: "Introduction to Strategic Intelligence," which includes the below listed presentations following yours. (Arrangements for speakers on these subjects is being made with [] office):

- a. The Strategic Intelligence Process - 1 hour - Agency: CIA

ACSIH-SH-DI
Mr. Lyman Kirkpatrick

- b. Production of National Estimates - 1 hour - Agency: CIA
- c. National Intelligence Survey Production Program - 1 hour
Agency: CIA

The aforementioned block of subjects will be followed by sixty-two hours of instruction on specific intelligence functions presented by speakers from the Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Intelligence, Department of the Army, CIA, and other government agencies.

Attached hereto is a form upon which it is requested that you indicate the administrative details regarding your presentation. Please return this form at your earliest convenience to the Office of the Director of Instruction, U. S. Army Intelligence School, Fort Holabird, Baltimore 19, Maryland.

Should there be any question regarding this presentation, please contact Major William N. Bringham, Office of the Director of Instruction, at MEDford 3-9000, Extension 2221.

We again look forward to welcoming you to Fort Holabird and trust that you will arrive in time to have luncheon at the Fort Holabird Officers' Open Mess with a representative of our Staff and Faculty.

Sincerely yours,
